A&F Markets Éditions announces the publication of the first English edition of Art and Taxation for the Global Collector

PARIS, France – 8 December 2014 – A&F Markets Éditions has announced the release of the first English edition of Art and Taxation for the Global Collector, a comprehensive guide detailing the different fiscal systems which are applied to art around the world. The publication builds upon the initial French edition, L'Art et la Fiscalité du Collectionneur dans le Monde, which has also been updated this year.

“With the financial crisis, taxation has evolved significantly in many countries. It was necessary for us to update a large part of the work we had done for the first edition. It also gave us the opportunity to complete and expand the scope of the information previously covered,” explains Antoine Cadeo de Iturbide, Head of Operations at A&F Markets and author of Art and Taxation for the Global Collector. “We have also added almost 20 new territories, which brings the overall total to more than 100!”

Over 500 pages, Art and Taxation for the Global Collector covers the regulations of purchases, possession and transfer of artworks, as well as the measures regarding patronage and resale rights in 91 countries and 103 territories. The 2015 edition adds the main customs procedures to export from each of these countries. The guide concludes with a complete glossary as well as the locations of freeports and freezones in Europe.

“The first edition of our guide was a huge success and has found its place with all of the important advisors, gallerists, dealers and auction houses,” announces Pierre Naquin, Founder of A&F Markets and Director of the publication of the book. “This year, with the release of the English version, we can respond to the increasing demand from our international clients. We will continue updating the guide each year so that it may remain a key reference point.”

Art and Taxation for the Global Collector can be bought online at the following address arttaxguide.com. It will be delivered within five days following purchase.

This book forms part of the ever-increasing production of A&F Markets Éditions.

Art and Taxation for the Global Collector* is an annual guide detailing the taxation which affects the art market in most countries around the world. It is also available in French under the title L'art et la fiscalité du collectionneur dans le monde.
